

Charlotte Kong

Associate

I am an associate in Fox Williams' technology team, advising on a range of commercial matters, with a particular focus on intellectual property.

Charlotte advises on a variety of commercial matters with a particular focus on intellectual property. Charlotte acts for a range of clients including in the fashion and technology sectors.

Charlotte joined Fox Williams in September 2017. After completing her training contract at the firm, she qualified into the commerce and technology department in September 2019.

Legal Expertise

- Commerce & technology
- Intellectual Property

Experience

- Acted for Bentley Clothing and obtained a successful High Court judgment in their trade mark infringement claim against Bentley Motors.
- Advised on a matter in the IPEC in relation to a copyright claim and counterclaim for infringement of UK and community unregistered design rights in respect of competitors in the field of evening and wedding apparel and prom dresses.