

Eleanor Juckes

Trainee Solicitor

I am a trainee solicitor at Fox Williams, currently sitting in my first seat in the employment team.

Eleanor joined Fox Williams in March 2024, having previously been an employment Paralegal at another inner-city London firm. As a Paralegal Eleanor administered (on behalf of both employers and groups of employees) large-scale redundancy programmes and worked on multiple high-value senior executive exits. Prior to her career in law, Eleanor worked in various areas of recruitment for one of the UK's largest personnel management companies.

Eleanor completed the SQE in 2024 as part of an LLM at the University of Law, achieving a Distinction in her Masters alongside top quintile scores in both SQE1 and 2. Eleanor has a BA in Jurisprudence (Law) from the University of Oxford and graduated in 2019.
